THE OPPORTUNITY:

With New Orleans at a turning point in its history, the next mayor is poised to bring in a new era of economic and social revitalization to what was, just four years ago, a devastated city. Facing an unprecedented opportunity for growth and positive change, the citizens of New Orleans are looking for the next mayor who will faithfully represent the citizens and govern with this transformative spirit.

THE JOB:

- Take an active leadership role in developing all areas of a successful city, including:
 - Financial management
 - Operations, including city infrastructure
 - Governance and staffing
 - Economic development
 - Public health
 - Education
 - Housing
 - Race and social justice
 - Criminal justice and safety
 - Environment and hurricane/flood protection
- Develop the City of New Orleans into a model for governmental and bureaucratic efficiency
- Foster regular, two-way transparent communication both within the government and with the greater public
- Execute a positive, aggressive marketing strategy, highlighting the City's strengths to a global audience
- Collaboratively design and implement a galvanizing long-term vision and plan
- Develop and employ funding/investment strategies following sound business principles

THE HIRE (QUALIFICATIONS):

The City of New Orleans is interested in tested, resilient leaders who demonstrate the following:

- Experience in leading and/or building thriving organizations
- Strong record of adherence to ethics
- Ability and willingness to build consensus and respect on a municipal, regional, state, and federal level
- Proven record of accessible, open communication with staff and other constituents
- Embrace of the spirit of public service
- History of building strong teams
- Strong understanding of the City Home Rule Charter
- Desire and ability to coach, mentor and advise the next generation of leadership
- Passion for growing opportunities for all, no matter race, ethnicity, religion, gender, disability or sexual orientation
- An intense love for the Saints, Hornets, and Zephyrs
